A note to our Invited Government Agencies & Prime Contractors

Our small business attendees are as diverse as a Yellow Page Book & SBA Dynamic Small Business Directory combined.

They have technologies, training, research, construction, services with integrity, and the latest advances in products to demonstrate to every agency of the military, federal, state, county, and local government. They are coming from 33 Ohio Counties and also Indiana & Kentucky.

Please proudly represent your government agency or supplier diversity program as our guest in this new format by visiting the small business vendors of goods & services at their display tables. (Free admission for you includes boxed lunch).

The Southwest Central Ohio Procurement Technical Assistance Center (PTAC) is a sub-center of the State of Ohio Procurement Technical Assistance Program. The State PTAC program is a cooperative effort among Ohio Department of Development, U.S. Department of Defense and various local host organizations. The SWCO PTAC is hosted and supported by the Edison Materials Technology Center (EMTEC). The mission of the PTAC program is to provide technical assistance to Ohio companies desiring to enter local, state and federal government markets, as a means to support economic development, and to foster the retention and creation of Ohio jobs. The State of Ohio PTAC program is one of 93 PTAC programs located throughout the United States.
